Stock Show Breaks Even, Reduces Debt

The Third District Livestock Show virtually broke even on its 1957 show operations last September, and the whole year's financial report will show about the same result, President Frank Douglas said.

President Douglas said the association's annual membership dinner meeting in Hotel Barlow Thursday night, thirty-one attended.

The officers reported Stock Show income of $12,464.86 and expense of $12,212.35, for a tentative profit of $252.50.

Plant improvements of the big Coliseum and other Stock Show property this year exceeded the $25,000 state appropriation, they said, the overage being $4,164.72. Mr. Douglas defended the excess spending, saying it was necessary, and that he had guaranteed much of this debt personally.

He pointed out that the Stock Show association was in a vastly better financial position today than two years ago. He said the original $20,500 bank debt of two years ago had been reduced to $5,038.15 as of December 18, 1957. He said the current balance of $5,038.15 is divided as follows: At Citizens National Bank, city-endorsed balance, $1,309; personally endorsed $2,986; at First National Bank, city-endorsed $653.15. Two years ago the association owed $13,500 on city-endorsed paper, and $7,000 on personally-endorsed notes.

Pony Sales Scheduled. Mr. Douglas said the Coliseum improvements were vital if the association expected to attract supporting income during the 51 weeks the Stock Show is not being held. He disclosed that arrangements are being made for three annual Shelton, Pony sales here, events which will give Hope nation-wide advertising. He said he was prepared to guarantee any additional expense required in readying the Coliseum for this event.

The Stock Show association would permit him to apply first revenues to retirement of this extra expense, with future revenues going to the association — and the association voted to accept this proposal.

For the first time the Stock Show association adopted a definite policy regarding program commitments during Stock Show Week. A resolution was adopted limiting paid professional attractions to the rodeo and carnival only. It was the unanimous opinion of the management and members that whatever additional entertainment is obtained should be homespun and local to the 18 counties of the Third Livestock Show District.

The show made its best financial report with such a policy in 1956, debate disclosed, revenue fell off with two days of hired vaudeville acts this year — although a prime cause of this year's decline was the breaching of contract by the scheduled carnival. The association sued the carnival owner at Fort Smith but a jury trial this month awarded damages of only $100.

No Central Guard as School Dismissed. Little Rock (AP) — Integration-troubled Little Rock Central High School was without a military guard today for the first time since Sept. 24.

The Army pulled its handful of federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen off patrol duty at the school yesterday and said no troops would be stationed at the school during the Christmas holidays.

No Decision, Says Faubus, on 3rd Term

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus says he has reached no decision about running for a third term.

He told a civic club here yesterday: "I intend to take my own time and make my decision when I think the time is right."

The governor also told the Lions Club meeting that he did not know when troops would be withdrawn permanently from Little Rock Central High School. And he said he did not know what would happen when they are pulled out for good.

All troops have been removed from the school for the Christmas holidays but it is expected they will return when classes resume Jan. 2.

State Welcomes Clear Weather After Tornado

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Several tornadoes battered four communities in southwest Arkansas yesterday, killing two persons and injuring six others.

Cooler temperatures and fair skies greeted Arkansas today in the wake of the storms. The turbulent weather, following several days of unseasonably warm temperatures, brought rain to every section of the state.

The most destructive twister slashed into the small Cotton Belt community near Magnolia, wrecking five houses and damaging two others. Two Negro women were killed and three persons injured.

Another tornado destroyed an oil company office near Stephens and injured three workmen. A fourth man suffered a light heart attack.

Several houses were damaged in rural communities near Stephens, in Ouachita County, and near Walden, in Columbia County.

In southeast Arkansas, a twister smashed a storehouse at Tucker State Prison Farm in Jefferson County and damaged two houses at nearby Sherrell. No one was hurt.

Sarah Hardin, 33, and Christine Turner, 35, were killed by the Cotton Belt twister. Those hospitalized with serious injuries were Minnie Bell Wilson, 11, Mrs. Henry Zachary, 40, and her 18-year-old daughter, Rita. All are Negroes.

Hospital attendants in Magnolia said today that all three were improved and are expected to recover.

Another storm at the McNeil community near Magnolia destroyed a barn, small store and carport near the home of Bert Turnage. Two walls of the Turnage's house were smashed. One woman was in the house at the time but she was not injured.

The homes of Ernest Birchfield, Ernest Gilbert and Harold Hunter, located in a rural area near Walden, were damaged, but no injuries were reported. Birchfield said that he could find no trace of 10 turkeys which were in his yard before the storm struck.

The twister that struck in the Stephens area destroyed an office warehouse in the Sohio Oil Co. camp, B. A. Roscoe, 64, suffered serious chest injuries; W. B. Raines, 47, suffered a broken leg; and Hugh Pickering, 27, was cut and bruised. A fourth employee of the firm, T. E. Williams, had a heart attack during the storm but was later reported in good condition.

All of the injured men were taken to a hospital at Camden.

Telephone service in the Walden-McNeil area was disrupted by the twister that hit the Cotton Belt community. However, Southwest Bell Telephone Co. officials said all circuits were functioning again several hours later.

Fighting Not as Tough as Acting Says Galento

By HAL ROYLE

EVERGLADES, Fla. (AP) — Hope under the surprised gaze of critical alligators in wilderness where only alligator moccasins are in the social swim, Dominick Anthony Galento is making his major bid for his first Academy Award as an actor.

"Acting makes me more nervous than fighting ever did," said Galento, "but all I need to get ahead is to read up on my reading."

Action Against Ousted Unions Completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The reform-minded AFL-CIO today acted to complete center of the Teamsters Laundry and Bakery Workers Unions from all echelons of the united labor movement.

The three unions already have been kicked out of the big federation on corruption charges.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and William Schnitzer, secretary, followed up this national level expulsion by ordering the federation's more than 650 state and local groups to act immediately to sever relations with units of the three unions.

They ordered Teamsters locals expelled from state and local groups forthwith, and directed similar ouster of Bakery Union locals unless they affiliate within "a reasonable time" with a newly chartered reform organization, the American Bakery and Confectionery Workers International Union.

Meany and Schnitzer said Laundry Workers Union locals similarly ineligible to hold membership in AFL-CIO standards could apply for AFL-CIO charters abandoning their parent union.

Hamilton was operated on for removal of a tumor Nov. 12. He assumed the Ark La Gas presidency in November, 1955 after a 30-year career with the firm and its predecessors.

A native of Palestine, Tex., and a resident of Shreveport, La., where Ark La Gas has its headquarters, Hamilton entered the natural gas business in 1910 as assistant controller of the old Arkansas Natural Gas Co.

After a merger which created Ark La, Hamilton's duties covered many phases of gas utility operation. He was most widely known as an authority on natural gas rates and regulations.

Ark La made him a vice president in 1946. He was elected to the Board of Directors in 1953 and became senior vice president in 1955 a few months before he was named president.

Hamilton also headed two Ark La subsidiaries, Ark La Air Conditioning Corp., of Evansville, Ind., and Arkansas Cement Corp., of Foreman, Ark.

He was a trustee of Sentenary College at Shreveport.

Survivors include his widow; a son, J. C. Hamilton Jr., of Kennebeck, Tex.; a daughter, Mrs. R.C. Buckner, of Kansas City; two brothers, Ben R. Hamilton of Little Rock and Jesse B. Hamilton of Fort Worth, Tex., and five grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were in complete.

Combs turned down another request to raise from $100 to $500 the weekly wage limit on which such insurance is paid.

In announcing his action yesterday, he gave this breakdown of the increase between classes: Manufacturing 2.4 per cent, contracting 2.4 per cent, and others 5.6 per cent.

Combs said one factor which brought about the increase in rates was a provision of the state workers' compensation law providing for unlimited payment of medical bills for workers covered by the insurance.

It was requested by the National Council on Compensation Insurance, a rating and statistical bureau for all companies that write workers' compensation insurance.

President of Ark-La Gas Company Dies

KANSAS CITY (AP) — John Carroll Hamilton, president of the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., and a pioneer in the modern natural gas industry, died at a hospital here last night after a 5-week illness. He was 66.

Hamilton was operated on for removal of a tumor Nov. 12. He assumed the Ark La Gas presidency in November, 1955 after a 30-year career with the firm and its predecessors.

Pentagon Seeks Billion More for Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense McElroy said today the Pentagon will ask for about a billion dollars addition to current funds, when Congress convenes.

The money will be used for missiles and other arms in connection with the NATO military buildup.

This supplemental appropriation, as it is called, would boost the defense budget for the fiscal year ending next June 30 to approximately $95 billion dollars.

McElroy, arriving from the Paris NATO meetings, was asked whether the Defense Department expected to ask Congress for more money.

"The amount is not quite set," he replied.

Asked whether it might be about a billion dollars, he said: "That wouldn't be far wrong."

McElroy said missiles would represent a large part of the total.

"The disclosure that the Pentagon thinks it will need another billion dollars between now and next June 30 suggests that the tempo of the military buildup for NATO, outlined in the just concluded Paris meetings, is being moved up rapidly."

Buildings Run Down at State Boys School

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Legislative Auditor Orvel Johnson said today that buildings at the Boys Industrial School at Pine Bluff were in a rundown condition that the bookkeeping was not all it should be and that some properties were insured at more than their appraised value.

He said an audit showed that a dairy manager was classified for payroll purposes as a dentist and paid on that basis for about a year.

Johnson made his report to the Legislative Audit Committee. He said copies were sent to members of the school's Board of Control.

Johnson reported that the schools maintenance shop valued at $2,500 was insured for $4,000 and that storage building, appraised at $300 was insured for $500. He said that a pickup truck which had not been in running condition for some time was still insured as was another vehicle which had been traded in for a later model.

MacMillan Wins Okay to Missile Bases in Britain

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan tonight won parliamentary approval for establishment of nuclear missile sites on British soil.

By a 289-251 vote, the House of Commons supported decisions taken by Macmillan at the NATO meeting in Paris — decisions which involve the basing of American-made missiles in Britain.

He said ballistic missiles — of intermediate range, able to reach targets in the Soviet Union — would only be used by the United States with British agreement.

Britain would not be able to use them on her own, but would have to have Washington approval before they could be fired, Macmillan said.

Macmillan said the decision was a "historic moment" for Britain, and that it would "strengthen the NATO alliance."

NEWLY ELECTED president of the Hope Chamber of Commerce is John B. (Jack) Lowe, co-owner and manager of Hope Builders Supply.

MacHardy, 40, is vice president of the Refined Syrups Sugars, Inc., of Yonkers, a suburban community just north of New York City.

He is a member of the board of directors of the Yonkers YMCA and is the father of two sons, 15, and 18.

MacHardy stuck firmly to his position despite the judge's plea for the panel to make every effort toward reaching unanimity, and in the face of an unusual courtroom display of something like exasperation by the woman jury foreman.

The jury got the case against the President-elect of the Teamsters Union and two other persons at 4 o'clock Wednesday.

At 3:30 last night the foreman, Mrs. Lillian Doren, a receptionist, told U.S. Dist. Judge Frederick Van Pelt Bryan that it was unable to agree.

In a note to Judge Bryan she asserted: "We have had the case 28 hours and we cannot agree unanimously."

Judge Bryan conferred in his chambers with attorneys for Hoffa and the government, then called the jury into the courtroom.

"It is your duty to decide this case one way or another if you can do so conscientiously," he told the jurors.

Without the auto price hikes, Clague said, living costs would have risen only slightly if at all in November. The November new car prices were 11.5 per cent above those in October.

Prices of food declined by three tenths of one per cent, reflecting seasonal declines in prices of pork, fresh fruits and eggs.

Clague said living costs for December will show little change from November, and that he anticipates a slight decline in January. He said the consumer price level beyond January will depend on the business situation generally and how this is translated into prices.

The White House said today the two presidents discussed such matters as Iceland's economy.

There was no indication that the discussion concerned the U.S. Air Base in Iceland, which has been a subject of some controversy between the two countries. Obviously, however, American spending in Iceland is a major factor in Iceland's economy.

Meanwhile, diplomats dealing with the foreign aid program expressed some confusion over President Eisenhower's reference to the Export-Import Bank in his opening speech at the NATO meeting Monday.

Eisenhower, saying the United States was stepping up its economic aid, listed some proposals in the works. Among other things, he said: "We will ask the Congress to increase the lending authority of the Export-Import Bank.

The diplomats here said the puzzling thing about this Eisenhower reference was its inclusion with some foreign aid proposals, such as a request for a $25-million-dollar development loan fund.

The said the Export-Import Bank generally is considered outside the foreign aid program. And they said the two billion dollars being sought is a routine recapitalization which just happens to fall due at this time.

The bank, established 24 years ago, provides long-term loans to foreign buyers so they can purchase American goods.

Eisenhower's new foreign aid program, as developed so far, seeks more funds for economic and technical aid than for military aid to friendly nations. This marked the first time since 1950 that less money was contemplated for military assistance than for economic-technical aid.

Members of Congress who have expressed opposition to the $1,800,000,000 provision for military aid in the fiscal year starting July 1, however, a number of legislators have called for cutbacks in the economic aid total.

Tar Heels Get First Real Test in Play Tonight

By DON WEISS

North Carolina's Tar Heels, who had all the answers a year ago, put their book of basketball knowledge to its first serious test of the new college season tonight.

The Tar Heels, skipping along on a carry-over 26-game winning streak, play unbeaten Minnesota in the opener of the class-jammed Kentucky Invitational tournament at Lexington.

Minnesota is 10th ranked nationally in the Associated Press poll and 3-0 against the likes of Southern Methodist, Iowa State and Vanderbilt. If the Gophers can't do it, then the Tar Heels will be confronted with tonight's West Virginia-Kentucky winter in the Saturday final.

On the odd chance this tournament doesn't suit you, the two-day Blue Grass tourney opens tonight at Louisville with the host Louisville Cardinals playing Army and San Francisco meeting Seattle, another West Coast biggie. And the Carrousel tournament continues at Charlotte with semi-final action matching Tennessee against Louisiana Tech and Alabama against Louisiana State.

Unbeaten Tennessee won its fourth straight, 89-71 over Bucknell behind the 25-point, 16-rebound play of Gene Tomohlen, a 67 import from Indiana, Alabama, with four starters hitting 10 or more points, fought off Clemson 76-75; freshman Jackie Moreland's 16 points helped Louisiana Tech whip Davidson, 60-41; and Louisiana State, led by Dom Merlo's 24, surprised Lafayette, 80-72, to complete the Carrousel's semis.

On the non-tournament level, Dayton, Western Kentucky, and Mississippi State, No. 18 nationally, had good nights.

Dayton crushed Fordham 64-35, allowing the Rams' only 12 points in the first half and only nine field goals in the game. Western Kentucky, with massive Ralph Crosthwaite scoring 35 and moving around like a sprinter, routed Seton Hall 101-75 in the wrapup of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader after New York Univ. had downed South Carolina, 81-66 in the opener. Mississippi State, winning its seventh in a row behind Bailey Howell's 39-point spurge, cuffed Murray (Ky) State 68-69.

St. Josephs (Pa.), winless in three starts wallowed a Richmond club 90-64 that had lost only once in six tries and that in overtime to high-rated West Virginia.

Among the dwindling unbeaten, Boston Univ. won its fourth, 65-55 over Colgate; Niagara's fifth, 73-72 over Seton; Princeton its fifth, 80-47 over Rutgers; and Boston College its sixth, 62-62 over Brandeis. But little tufts, three-beaten, chopped Harvard off the perfect-record list, 68-63.

Southern Methodist, apparently back in form, defeated Auburn 75-65, and Bob MacGillivray's fielder with 17 seconds left won for North Carolina State over Villanova, 57-56.

Wisconsin won its fourth in five 50-58 from Butler, escaping when Butler's Bob Plump, sixth best free throw man in the nation last year, blew one after time had run out. Purdue's second half rally stopped South Dakota 74-62 and Indiana, defending co-champ of the Big Ten, finally won its first after three losses, 79-66 over St. Marys (Calif.).

Georgia tripped Georgia Tech 69-68 on Ray Allen's free throw with 23 seconds left in overtime and Tulane's record went to 5-1 with a 65-58 defeat of Virginia Tech.

Once-beaten Georgetown (DC) defeated St. Peter's (NJ) for its fifth straight Texas Christian, now 5-1, beat Howard Payne 80-62, and last Wayne Hester's set shooting paced Nebraska's 61-53 victory over Ohio U.

Finals of the tournament will be played Saturday night, the Senior girls game at 7:30 and Senior boys game at 8:30.

SPA Output Tops All Previous Records

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The Southwestern Power Administration's output from hydroelectric dams in the area topped all previous records this year.

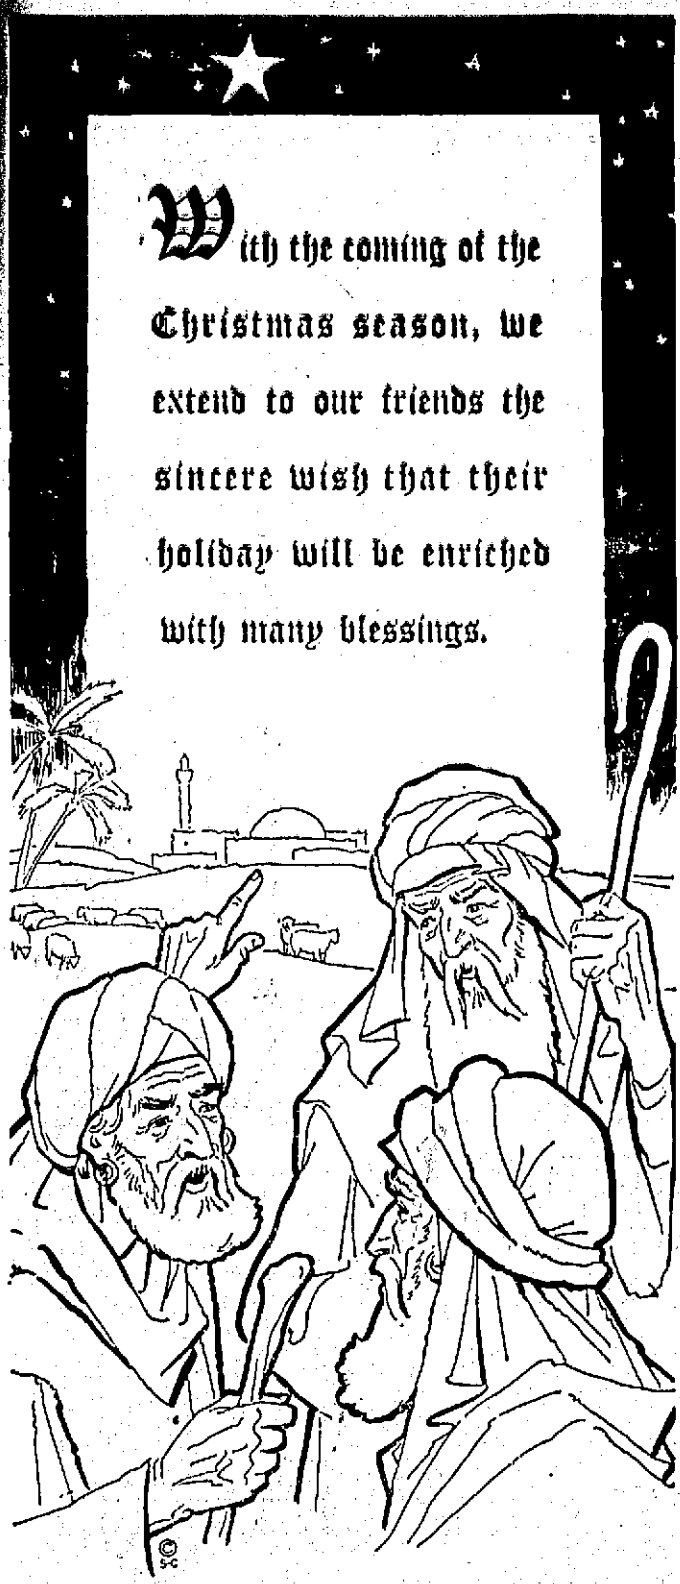

This was disclosed yesterday by the SPA administrator, Douglas G. Wright, who said the production was more than a billion kilowatt hours ahead of last year.

The U. S. government's seven hydroelectric dams, for which SPA is the marketing agency, produced 1,760,286,220 kilowatt hours of power during the 12 months ending Oct. 31, Wright said.

The total for the same period ending Oct. 31, 1956, when extremely dry weather and above normal temperatures kept production down, was 734,703,560.

U. S. Well on Way to Second Missile Design

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is reported well along in building a second design of Air Force Inter-Continental Ballistic missile.

It also is said to be testing rocket engines for the submarine-launched intermediate range Polaris missile of the Navy.

These disclosures of new progress in missile weaponry came from Dan A. Kimball, head of a missile engine firm. Kimball, president of Aero-Jet General Corp., is a former secretary of the Navy.

Kimball, speaker last night at a meeting of the Washington section of the American Rocket Society, said in answer to a question about the Titan Co. The Titan ICBM has been delivered and that others are in production.

The Titan is a 5,000-mile-range missile, like the Atlas, which was test fired successfully on Tuesday from Cape Canaveral, Fla. The Air Force has two ICBM programs — the Atlas project, for which Convair is the primary contractor, and the Titan, under contract to the Martin Co. The Titan program was started by the Air Force more than three years after development of the Atlas had been ordered.

Kimball also said the first and second stages of the power plant for the 1,500-mile-range Polaris missile were tested last week and "we're going to fire some more this week." He did not make clear whether these were "iced-down" tests of the rocket engines at Aero-Jet's California plants or flight tests made at the Cape Canaveral site.

Pentagon officials revealed last week that the Polaris project has been accelerated, with the first missile now expected to be read in 1960 or earlier.

The Polaris, developed by Lockheed, is unlike the Air Force's ICBM and IRBM weapons and the Army's Jupiter ICBM in that it uses solid fuel instead of liquid propellant. The Navy prefers solid rocket fuel for safety and ease of handling the missile aboard submarines and ships.

NINE SOLDIERS KILLED

LIMA, Peru (UP) — Nine Peruvian army soldiers were killed and 22 others were injured seriously when a truck in which they were riding plunged down a 40-foot precipice Wednesday. The accident happened on the Pan American Highway near the border between Piura and Lambayeque provinces, north of Lima.

Flight Home for GIs Interrupted

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — A flight home for the Christmas holidays for 23 members of the Air Force was interrupted briefly today when an Air Force C-47 transport made a forced landing at the municipal airport.

Capt. Clyde W. Williams of Morgan City, La., brought the two-engine craft in safely after the port engine failed at 7,000 feet. The plane was en route from Barksdale Air Force Base near Bossier City, La., to Washington, D.C. It was scheduled to continue the flight later today when repairs were completed.

New officers were scheduled to be elected later today. The association's executive committee will meet tomorrow morning to outline the 1958 program.

School Out, Sentries Still at L. R. School

By JOHN R. STARR
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A few sentries paced the sidewalks around Central High School today, but the sprawling buff-brick building was empty.
Two thousand white students and a handful of Negro pupils were dismissed yesterday for the Christmas holidays.
They left in an air of new tension created by the suspending of a Negro student and segregationist charges that school officials have shown favoritism to the Negroes.

The Little Rock crisis, which erupted in bloody rioting Sept. 23, had generally subsided to court-room skirmishing by foes of integration.
But the past few days saw these developments:
Mrs. Margaret Jackson, who is president of the pro-segregationist League of Central High Mothers charged that Mrs. L. C. Bates, state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was allowed to question white students about in-

Rep. Mills to Head Ways, Means Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Jere Cooper (D-Tenn), chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, died last night after suffering an attack of coronary thrombosis. He was 64.
Cooper's death puts Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark) in line for chairmanship of the important committee, which originates all tax legislation in Congress.
The party lineup in the House now stands at 230 Democrats and 200 Republicans, with five vacant seats, including Cooper's.
Cooper represented Tennessee's 8th District. He had served in Congress continuously since 1929, and had headed the Ways and Means Committee since 1955.
The Tennessee entered Bethesda Naval Hospital near here Dec. 5 after suffering what was described as a mild coronary thrombosis. The hospital said his recovery was satisfactory until he suddenly suffered another severe attack about 9:20 a.m. yesterday. He died shortly afterward.
Mills, who is in line to succeed Cooper, has been described as a politician's politician who works without fanfare.

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.), sometimes called a "politician's politician" who works without fanfare, will be the new chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee—the powerful tax-writing group in Congress.
Mills will move into that key post in January as a result of the death last night of Rep. Jere Cooper (D-Tenn) who had headed the committee since 1955.
The elevation of Mills from second-ranking Democrat to the chairmanship will become official when the House Democrats caucus next month. In the Democratic-controlled 85th Congress, all committee heads are members of that leged mistreatment of Negroes. Mrs. Jackson said school authorities always showed favoritism to Negroes in racial incidents at the school. This was denied by school spokesmen and Mrs. Bates.

2. The Capital Citizens Council, the state's most active segregationist group, circulated a handbill detailing what it called the "arrest record" of Mrs. Bates and repeating Mrs. Jackson's charges.

3. School officials suspended Minnie Jean Brown, one of the Negro students, for dumping food on two white boys in the cafeteria.

4. A report was circulated that the federal government planned to replace federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen, some 400 of whom are still held for integration duty, with deputy U.S. Marshals.

The troop-substitution rumor was officially denied.

The Army completed the scheduled release of an additional 300 guardsmen from federal service. It was the fourth reduction in force since President Eisenhower federalized the 10,000-member Guard and sent 1,000 Army paratroopers here to enforce integration Sept. 24. Left on duty are only 432 guardsmen.

More NAACP Officials Face Arrest

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Three officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People faced arrest today if they failed to comply with a new city ordinance.
The measure calls for the North Little Rock branch of the NAACP to file certain confidential data on finances and membership with the city clerk.
Deadline for filing was last midnight.

Alderman Paul O. Duke, who obtained the arrest warrants, said he did not think the ordinance would be obeyed. He said he was giving the three officials a few hours of grace but would order the warrants served unless the requested information arrived today.

The three officials are Mrs. Birdie Williams, president of the NAACP branch; Mrs. Louella Wilson, secretary; and Mrs. Mazetta W. Powell, who said she once was treasurer.

Recently W. A. Fair, vice president, was arrested for violating the ordinance and was fined $25 in municipal court. Fair's appeal is pending in Pulaski Circuit Court. A hearing was scheduled in U.S. District Court at Little Rock today on an NAACP motion to restrain North Little Rock from enforcing the new ordinance.

The motion was filed in connection with an NAACP suit which contends that the ordinance is unconstitutional.

News Briefs

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. David H. Johnson will become state veterinarian Jan. 1, succeeding Dr. Joe S. Campbell who has been ill recently. Gov. Orval Faubus announced the appointment of Dr. H. H. Johnson, now assistant state veterinarian.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission on application of KBTM and KBTM-FM of Jonesboro, Ark., has granted assignment of license from Harold E. and Helen W. King to Alan G. Patterson Jr. and Matthew C. Patterson for $110,000.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Dickman-Pickens-Bond Construction Co. of Little Rock has submitted the apparent low bid, of $1,585,180 for building a women's housing facility on the University of Arkansas campus. Bids for the structure, which would accommodate 400 students, will be reviewed by the University Board of Trustees Jan. 4.

The 48-year-old Kensett, Ark., lawyer has been tagged on capital hill as a lieutenant of House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex). And he also has been mentioned, along with majority leader McCormack (D-Mass.), as a possible successor to Rayburn whenever the Texan vacates the rostrum.

Mills has been described as a man who prefers to work behind the scenes without fanfare, and who seldom "pops off" publicly. A graduate of Harvard Law School, Mills could be considered a conservative with liberal leanings. He has been a member of the house since 1940.

Farmers Had Income Dip of 6.5 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Crops produced by farmers this year had a value of $17,548,392,000, or about 6.5 per cent less than last year's value of $18,781,124,000, the Agriculture Department reported today.

The agency did not give figures on the value of livestock and livestock products produced this year.

The department said that despite the decline in the value of crops, farm income itself is expected to be slightly larger than last year. The increase largely would reflect a bigger amount of government payments to producers.

California led all states with crops valued at $1,674,527,000 compared with $1,758,257,000 last year.

The value of crops was based on final production estimates and average prices received during the marketing season.

Corn continued to top all crops with a value of $3,991,111,000 compared with $4,459,165,000 last year. Prices were said to be averaging $1.17 a bushel compared with $1.29 last year.

Hay was second with a value of $2,286,350,000 compared with $2,303,616,000 last year. Wheat third at $1,839,440,000 compared with $1,974,174,000 last year.

Other crops which had a lower value this year than last included rice, cotton, cottonseed, and tobacco.

Crops which had a higher value included oats, barley, sorghum grain, soybeans, sugar beets, hops and sweet potatoes.

The crop values by states this year and last, respectively, included: Illinois, $1,176,398,000 and $1,425,133,000; Iowa, $1,137,584,000 and $1,050,525,000; Missouri, $508,107,000 and $844,008,000; Nebraska, $732,661,000 and $455,300,000; Kansas, $484,321,000 and $48,036,000; Oklahoma, $232,164,000 and $273,252,000; Colorado, $169,163,000 and $208,526,000; Arkansas, $330,542,000 and $458,542,000.

Electricity Flow From Nuclear Power

By WILLIAM A. SWARTWORTH

SHIPPINGPORT, Pa. (AP)—Atom-generated electricity surged from the world's first full-scale completely commercial nuclear power station today.

Jack Waugaman, 37, of nearby Hootstown, Pa., was the "man of the hour" when the historic 110 million-dollar plant produced its first electricity for homes, shops and factories from splitting uranium atoms.

Waugaman closed the switch on an intricate control panel that sent power flowing from the station's turbine generator into Duquesne Light Co.'s regular system yesterday.

"It was my job," said Waugaman matter-of-factly when asked his reaction. "I didn't analyze my feelings at the time. Maybe I was just too busy. But come to think of it that must have been a pretty significant thing."

"You know, there's no difference between the electricity here and any other," he added. "And the generator controls are much the same as in a regular coal plant."

Called a switchboard operator, Waugaman mans the plant's electrical control board on the mid-night to 3 a.m. shift. His chief job is seeing that the power flows into the company's lines properly, a highly technical operation.

A switchboard operator for about five years, he began training at Shippingport a year ago. He joined Duquesne Light 10 years ago as a laborer.

When Waugaman first touched the control switch at 12:30 a.m., only 5,000 kilowatts of electricity pulsed into Duquesne Light's system.

During the day this was stepped up to 20,000 and a company spokesman said full operating capacity of 60,000 kilowatts is to be reached in a few days. That is sufficient to supply the residential needs of a community of 250,000 population.

Shippingport, 25 miles northwest of Pittsburgh, is the nation's only large-scale atomic power plant and the second in the world. The other is in England. It supplies commercial electricity but its main purpose is production of plutonium for military uses.

SHOPPERS WATCH FIRE

President Confident Talks Succeeded

PARIS, (AP)—President Eisenhower flew home tonight from the NATO summit talks, expressing confidence the 15 nation conference had brought "the ideal of peace a little closer."

His plane took off at 6:15 p.m. (11:15 a.m.) CST.

The beaming but tired President bade an almost wistful farewell to his NATO partners in a short speech of farewell at the airport.

French President Rene Coty was there to see Eisenhower off, as he had greeted him on arrival. A resplendent honor guard gave the President a last salute, their bright sabres glinting in the airport lights.

"Goodbye, see you again," was the President's last statement to his hosts.

Hot Cargo Ruling Won't Have Bearing

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 18 (AP)—A ruling by the Interstate Commerce Commission against the "hot cargo" clause in Teamsters Union contracts won't have any bearing on future negotiations, a union official said today.

James E. Hamilton, president of Teamsters Local 886, whose contract with nine Oklahoma City freight lines instigated the ICC ruling, said the decision does not change the status of our contractual situation.

"We agreed in good faith with the Motor Carriers Assn.," he said. "And at that time we understood the contract was constitutional."

"We are taking the position that the ICC is not interpreting the law of the land—that duty is still up to the Supreme Court."

The ICC ruled that enforcement of the "hot cargo" clause by truckers jeopardized their ICC franchise. The clause allowed Teamsters to refuse to handle merchandise from a firm with which a union has a dispute, or which was not organized.

The commission ruled the nine Oklahoma City companies had violated federal regulations when they boycotted Galveston Truck Lines shipments. Desmond A. Barry, Galveston, Tex., president of the boycotted freight line, protested the clause in 1955.

Book Week Is Observed at Oglesby

Book Week was observed by the Sixth Grade of Oglesby School last week. The boys and girls visited the Hempstead County library on Tuesday to examine the display of new books and on the same field trip visited the Methodist church to see the stained glass windows.

The class is studying Medieval art and architecture in their Social Studies. During English period playlets and book reviews were written based on Newberry Award books. These reviews and playlets were presented to the entire student body on Friday morning at assembly.

Those participating were: Miss Read, a Librarian, Shirley Stone, Mieke and Rickie, two boys who didn't like to read, Jacky Lloyd and Mike Pooler, children who told about the Newberry Award, Phala Brown, Bill Land and Jimmy Walker; Caddie Woodhewn, Sherry Burke; Caddie's brother's Tom and Warren, Ronnie Stephenson and Charles Lee McCorkle; Caddie's little sister, Nettie, Linda Allen; Obadiah Jones, the school bully, Jackie Sumpter; Obadiah's brother, Harold Rogers; other children in the country school, Betty McKamie and Brenda Evans; the school teacher, Joy Highfill; Edward the little boy in the "Matchlock Gun," Al Welsenger;

Edward's mother, Jennifer Smith; Linna in the "Wheel on the School," Shirley Ann Moody; Old Dowe, who helped Linda, Joe Hargis; boys in the Dutch school, Jerry Dodson, Dale Dyer, Larry Seaton, Billy Gilbert; people of the Dutch town, Gwen Evans, Ruby Nell Davis, Ann Arnold reviewed "Wheel on the School." Reviewing books were: Ceell Sprague, Jr., who reviewed "Call It Courage"; Ray Williams, who reviewed "Daniel Boone" by Daugherty; Jimmy Carver, who reviewed "The Voyages of Dr. Dolittle"; and David Tullis who reviewed "Rabbit Hill."

The 1957 Newberry Medal Book "The Miracle on Maple Hill" and "Johnny Tremaine," another Newberry Award book, were highlighted by Gwen Farmer and Brenda Evans.

Nazareth May Have Been His Inspiration

Editor's Note: In a village nestled on the side of a valley ringed by 15 rounded hills, the boy Jesus attained manhood. The village was Nazareth. Here is a description of how Luke may have investigated there before writing the beautiful verse which says: "And the child grew and became strong."

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

A lone figure strode down the echoing stone corridor, through the gates of the castle prison, along the cobbled street and out of the city of Caesarea. Luke was off on his great quest.

He had bade farewell to his confined leader, Paul, before setting out on an exploration that would take him—he knew not where.

"The Lord go with you." The road inland led to the east, across the valley of Sharon to a small town of Samaria. Northward from there stretched the broad plains of Esdras in Galilee, and just beyond that, Nazareth.

There, perhaps, or elsewhere in those fertile, gentle hills, lay the goal of Luke's search—the story of God's descent to man, of the coming of the Messiah, a stroke of providence that arches over all history.

Inviting Mystery
Could the curious, one-time pagan physician, even with his discerning skills of diagnosis, pierce this marvel?

It had been long ago, Luke, in Jesus' days, had been only a boy, not yet in his teens, and in his distant, brotherly city, heard nothing of him. But now in his middle years, a fervent believer, he hunted more enlightenment.

Luke's sandals made a measured beat on the public road. On either side, fields and pastures were fading into the ochre hues of fall. The harvest was done, and flocks lay drying on the outcrops.

Over Luke's shoulder hung a worn pouch, laden with ointments, instruments and salves, jars of sedative, acetic, purging essences, tonic, anise to relieve colic, camphor and other medicines.

At a road fork, he took the southeasterly loop that avoided the deep crossing of the Klabin River, and thence traveled on north into the rolling homeland of Galilee.

Along the way, at the towns of Samaria, Chesiloth, Jephtha and Zaphoth, he spoke with whom he met, the patriarchs in the village squares, the old smiths, potters, tanners, farmers, gleaning wheat on a threshing floor.

"Did you know him? Did you see him? What incidents do you recall?"

Most of them were old, their hair white, their eyes cased in wrinkles, their limbs thin and dry.

But Luke found their memories of Jesus vivid and undimmed. He carried a wax tablet, its sheets fastened with rings and held apart by metal studs to prevent blurring of the notes he made with his stylus.

No Hearsay
He discounted the loose prattle, legends and hearsay. He relied, as he wrote later, only on those who "from the beginning were eyewitnesses and ministers of the word."

Numerous points show his care to get corroboration. In Jerusalem where Jesus' kinsman James had the church, Luke earlier had opportunity to examine the family genealogical registry and talk to Temple officials. Many dependable sources there, and in Galilee, survived in Luke's time.

Now he came, at last, to a summit overlooking Nazareth, a sleepy hamlet of clean limestone houses, amidst the silvery olive orchards and cypress palms.

In a peaceful valley ringed by 15 rounded hills, flocks grazed in the clearings between groves of pomegranates. Partway up the highest hill, crowned in nature's sanctuary, was the town.

"The home of that boy... of my Savior," Luke swallowed hard. From the brow of the hill, the view was breathtaking. To the east rose the wooded heights of Mt. Tabor; to the south, the wide valley of Jezreel; to the north, the white clusters of other villages and snow-tipped Mt. Hermon; far to the west, the blue expanse of the great sea.

Luke strolled through the winding lanes of the village, stopping to talk to ask questions, giving special attention to the aged, to a stooped, old tinsmith, a gray-bearded synagogue elder, a bent woman at the well.

Yes, full well, they remembered. Jesus had grown up here, a strong, intelligent boy, beloved by all. A thoughtful, astute one he was, too, and reverent. Indeed, they remembered.

Some townspeople, not yet 60, had been children with him. Studied there in that very synagogue, with the old chazzan filling them with the law and the prophets. He was a quick and kindly one. But ah, what befell him, woe upon woe.

There, just a bit down the street, is the old house and carpentry shop where he worked with his father, carving plow-harrows, yokes and axes. You could hear the adze and hatchet all day. They dragged timber down yonder hills.

Luke, the only gospel writer who deals with Jesus' childhood, absorbed it all. He would write: "And the child grew and became strong, filled with wisdom, and the favor of God was upon him."

Learns of Temple Visit
He knew beforehand that Joseph had long been dead, but many kinsmen of the old carpenter and of Mary still lived in the town. From them, perhaps, Luke learned of the trip to Jerusalem.

When Jesus was 12, at the age to become a "Son of the Torah," and make the thrice-yearly festival pilgrimages, Joseph and Mary took him with them in a large party to the passover feast, to see for the first time the great Temple.

Its snowy marble towers, walled terraces and gold-embossed gates shimmered high above the city. The series of high concentric courts, throbbing with voices and music of harp and flutes, could contain 210,000 people.

On the return trip, when the Galilee group halted after a day's journey, possibly at Sichem, Jesus could not be found. His parents returned to the city, searching three days before finding him.

There, in a cluster of learned rabbis at the Temple, he sat listening, asking questions and amazing all with his understanding and answers. As Luke learned, the boy's mother, half relieved, half reproachful, hurried to him, saying:

"Son, why have you treated us so? Behold, your father and I have been looking for you anxiously."

Jesus, apparently in the dawn of an irresistible necessity to give himself to his divine cause, said: "How is it that you sought me? Did you not know that I must be in my Father's house?"

The family returned to Nazareth and, as Luke ascertained, Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man.

Luke, however, still had not unearthed the crux of Jesus' arrival among men, the seed of it all, the supernatural derivations. If he could only speak with him directly... or with Mary!

It was possible that she still lived. After the crucifixion, she had gone to reside with the then-young stepson, John. His home was in Capernaum. Luke set his feet toward that place, wishing, wondering...

Santa to Get More Lonely Hearts Mail

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP) — It's beginning to look like Santa will get more adult lonely hearts mail than letters from youngsters, at least at the special City Hall mailbox here.

The special Santa Claus mail receiving center was set up last Friday. In the first batch deposited was a blunt request from a lonely widow for a male companion. It got considerable publicity.

Since then says the city recreation director, Nick Barack, about 30 letters have been deposited. Sixteen were from youngsters asking Santa for toys, and 14 from men in four states, trying to woo the unidentified widow.

Barack said he doesn't know why there are so few letters from youngsters, but he said the men barracks cannons to a scrap dealer for $30. The court Wednesday fined Tucker $50 and the corporals $10 each. They said they were short of cash.

who replied to the widow have urged her to call them long distance collect, mentioned their salaries, and even outlined their qualifications for marriage. Shuddering at the thought that the special service for children may turn into a matrimonial bureau, Barack reported that a woman who said she has been deserted for 22 years wrote, implying that if there is an eligible bachelor left after the widow is accommodated, she would like one, too.

Ike to Call for Work on Slum Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informed officials today predicted President Eisenhower will call on Congress next month to continue the city slum redevelopment program, though possibly at lower spending level.

There is general agreement, it was reported privately, that urban renewal will not be among the entire categories of activity which Eisenhower has said must be dropped to provide for increased spending for missiles and other defense needs.

The administration is still undecided, officials said, whether the President's January budget message should propose another 250 million dollars in federal grants to cities for fiscal 1959.

The Urban Renewal Administration, a unit of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, obtained a 350-million-dollar authorization from Congress last spring, but HHA imposed a 250-million-dollar ceiling on this year's grants. That means there will be 100 millions of unspent appropriation when the government bookkeeping

Mental Case Admits Passing Bad Checks

JOPLIN (AP)—A 37-year-old escaped from a Texas mental institution was reported today by police to have admitted obtaining several motor cars by means of fictitious checks.

He was booked as James Geraldson, Okemah, Okla., but admitted Police Captain Walter Flenner, including Jack Courtney and J. A. Thompson.

Police Captain Walter Flenner said Okemah, Okla., officers advised him that Geraldson, earlier this week purchased a 1956 car with a $2,200 no-fund check. He was sitting in the car when arrested at a filling station here.

Flenner said the man admitted orally that he had used fictitious checks to buy cars in Texas, New Mexico, California, Oregon and other states since he escaped Dec. 10, 1955 from the mental institution at Wichita Falls, Texas.

"It's a good thing they got me—I would have had some paper (bad checks) out here today if you hadn't," Flenner quoted the man as remarking.

The man is being held for questioning by the FBI.

Economic Adjustment Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell said today the nation faces what he termed a cyclical economic adjustment in 1958. He saw a probability of increasing unemployment and more labor strikes, but with improvement toward mid-year.

"I don't think we are in for a serious economic situation," Mitchell told a news conference. "The economists I've talked to believe we will see an upturn somewhere around the middle of 1958."

He said the winter months normally see some drop in employment. He said this winter is likely to be a bit worse than usual with some declines in business. But he said business probably will have a reasonably good year over-all.

He discounted estimates that unemployment, figured at 3,200,000 in November, will rise as high as six million by March.

Mitchell expressed opposition to any freeze in wages. But he said the danger of rising wages spurring a new inflationary spiral is quite obvious.

Sharp Reduction in Polio Cases

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A sharp reduction in the number of polio cases reported in Arkansas this year compared to 1956 was credited today to inoculation of Salk anti-polio vaccine.

The State Board of Health said the vaccine was a major factor in the reduction from 221 cases during 1956 to 55 reported as of Dec. 7 this year.

The number of paralytic cases was cut from 144 to 26. Nonparalytic cases dropped from 77 to 29.

Birth Scene Too Much for Pair

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 19 (AP)—Actress Audrey Hepburn and film-and-attorney Greg Bautzer collapsed last night after a realistic birth scene at the premiere of the movie "A Farewell to Arms."

The scene showed Jennifer Jones in the throes of agony.

Both Miss Hepburn and Bautzer left their seats to head for the lobby. The actress fainted on the stairs. Bautzer collapsed in the lobby. Both were soon revived.

Miss Hepburn's husband, actor Mel Ferrer, said before taking her home: "The war scenes and the delivery scene apparently were too much for her."

Friends said Bautzer had been suffering from flu.

The movie was adapted from Ernest Hemingway's novel.

Senators Endorse Idea of Arms Talk

By J. W. DAVIS
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—Several Democratic senators today endorsed the idea of trying for new disarmament talks with Russia. A Republican colleague said this would just be a waste of time.

They were all commenting on just-ended Paris meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

That meeting reached agreement in principle on a U. S. plan to equip European bases with nuclear missiles, beginning perhaps in late 1958. The meeting also approved proposals to explore the reopening of East-West disarmament talks.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), most critical of those commenting, said President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles had not actually won anything concrete on the missile deal.

"Acceptance in principle does not mean fulfillment in details," Humphrey said. "What is more, because this administration has methodically—if unwittingly—permitted our military position to be weakened, we do not have the missiles to furnish."

Humphrey said he hoped the administration would reconsider its earlier attitude toward disarmament talk proposals raised by Soviet Premier Bulganin in a letter to Eisenhower earlier this month.

"Even if that letter was a propaganda effort, he said, 'We must at all times be prepared to negotiate with Russia. We must re-examine our disarmament proposals and make up our mind what we want.'"

Man Loses Wife and Three Children

MURPHYSEBORO, Ill. (AP)—An unhappy man slowly picking his way through the wreckage of his tornado-blasted home today said:

"I sure would like to have a picture of where the house sat." He was George Butcher, whose wife and three children died in the twister which swept their home about 100 yards from its foundation. Another daughter, Glenna, is in critical condition.

Only he and a son, Leroy, 9, escaped unharmed.

"She's breathing good," Butcher said of Glenna.

"Here's part of my workshop," Butcher said as he picked up an electric motor.

"That's Janet's doll," added Leroy.

Butcher's face turned sad as he picked up a final treasure—a family photograph album with pictures of his wife, Martha, and the dead children, Donald 5, Mary Jane, 12, and Janet, 3.

The Wades adopted Jeff under a new immigration law which permits children adopted by U. S. servicemen to enter the United States on a non-quota basis.

Merchant Killed When Car Overtakes

VAN BUREN, Ark., Dec. 19 (AP)—An automobile overturned on a curve near here last night, killing the driver, James Claude Wakefield, 48, Ozark merchant and city treasurer.

Wakefield was thrown from the automobile and pinned under the wreckage. State Trooper Ed Blackard reported. He was alone.

In 1956 Wakefield won the first annual muzzle-loading rifle shooting contest at Berryville.

Archer Puts Win Streak on the Line

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK, Dec. 19 (AP)—Jimmy Archer takes a 12-1 fight winning streak into his first at Madison Square Garden main event tomorrow night against Gale Kerwin, another 22-year-old welterweight.

Archer, a former longshoreman, did most of his "prep school" work at St. Nicholas Arena where he has been a consistent performer. A prelim boy, less than a year ago, Archer graduated to the Garden on the strength of main event victories over Tony Disblase and Tony Decola (twice).

The $4,000 television cash, plus a share of the receipts, will give the blue-eyed blond his biggest pay day. He owns a 14-1 record, winning 12 in a row since he was stopped by Wally Odom in a 1956 prelim fight, his only defeat. Archer, a converted southpaw, is the 9 to 5 favorite.

Kerwin got his big break in October when he stepped into the Garden as a substitute and almost upset Johnny Busso, a performance that earned him another main go.

Matchmaker Billy Brown was stabbing around furiously for a sun when a Paula Rosi-Busso match fell apart because Rosi came down with the flu. After he lined up Sonnyboy Williams to take Rosi's place, the flu struck again. Kerwin, born in Ottawa but now living in Valley Stream, N. Y., was a desperation choice.

The youngster took up the challenge and put on a strong fight. He led Busso in the early stage, slamming away with a left hook to the body, but Busso took charge down the stretch after dropping Kerwin in the sixth.

Neither boxer is wanted among the top 10. But they show promise in a period when there is little to cheer about in the new talent department.

Senators Map Plans in Probe of Labor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate members meet today to consider where to turn next in their search for wrongdoing in labor and management.

The United Auto Workers was mentioned as one possibly inquiry subject when the Rackets Committee resumes its hearings next year.

The committee yesterday wound up nearly a year of hearings devoted largely to exploring corruption charges against some top leaders of the Teamsters Union.

Before resuming its hearings until 1958 the committee received testimony linking the name of Criminal Court Judge Rudolph Schofield of Chattanooga, Tenn., with alleged payoffs totaling thousands of dollars to "fix" cases in his court. The names of some Tennessee Teamsters officials figured in this testimony.

"The door is still open if Judge Schofield wants to come in and deny this under oath," Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) told newsmen. McClellan indicated he doubts the committee has the power, under the Constitution, to subpoena any judge.

Become on Hair Unexpectedly

DETROIT (AP) — Joseph E. Young of Prairie View, Ill., never saw his widowed aunt, Henrietta Lea of Detroit.

He went to see her once at the house where she lived in seclusion but she left the chain on the door and talked to him through a tiny crack, then sent him away.

She died Dec. 6 at the age of 73. The last year of her life was spent in a convalescent home after she was found alone in her house with a halibut cranium with money. She was a victim of malnutrition.

Young, the son of a brother who had not seen Mrs. Lea for 30 years, today was ruled the only heir to her $1,300,000 estate.

"The curious thing about motion pictures is that we never see them while they are in motion, but only during the fraction of a second when they are stopped. #### 'Face-saving' Only for Ike, Says Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today President Eisenhower got only "face-saving" results in the NATO agreement on establishing missile bases in Europe and exploring possible new disarmament talks with Russia.

Humphrey's skeptical reaction to the Paris summit conference developments was shared in part by Senators Fulbright (D-Ark) and Sparkman (D-Ala). But all three members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee joined in urging the administration to put its full weight behind renewed disarmament efforts.

At the same time, Sen. Curtis (R-Nebr) said it would be a waste of time for the United States, Britain, France and Canada to discuss arms limitations with the Soviets. These were the Western countries that took part in London disarmament talks that ended in failure last fall.

"I think any agreement with the Russians could not be relied on," Curtis said in a separate interview. "We wasted a lot of time and energy in the London disarmament talks and I see no value in renewing them."

Discussions Not Confined to NATO Area

PARIS (AP) — Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium said today the NATO conference agreed that political discussions cannot be confined to problems arising within the NATO area.

This supports the view of France and other Western European countries with grave problems in Africa, the Middle East and elsewhere. They wanted a broadening of NATO consultation to these areas. While political consultations will be broadened, Spaak said, the military obligations of the alliance are unchanged.

Spaak tied in the consultation agreement with a statement that the Soviet bloc aims to weaken the West. He thus set it in the context of an effort by the Atlantic Allies to meet the Soviet threat with a common front in many areas of the world.

On disarmament, Spaak told reporters after today's final session the Soviet Union had brought the United Nations to an impasse by ignoring the new U.N. Disarmament Commission.

Spaak summed up the conference's significance this way:

"We are convinced that military strength gives us security from aggression. But we should also be ready to seize any opportunity to negotiate. We want to obtain a balance between armaments and international good will."

Italy Has Toys Everywhere for Christmas

ROME, (INS) — Italy now celebrates Christmas a la Americana. Toys are everywhere — many imported from the U. S. and West Germany. This is the year of "space men" and inter-planetary travel.

Christmas "trees" highlight the Seven Hills of Rome and span out across all Italy.

Christmas "cards" flourish with masterpieces of Michelangelo and the long list of Italian greats of art. Italy's post offices are overrun with this American trademark.

It was not always so in Italy. Twenty years ago, Italians would merely doff their hats to neighbors and wish them well at Christmas time. If a friend or relative were to live in another town or city, he would send a simply illustrated postcard.

There was comparatively little exchange of presents. And Christmas trees only began to become popular at the turn of the century. Now, the fir is a Christmas household standard.

There is not the slightest doubt that the United States as tremendously influenced the Italian Christmas. The fact is openly admitted by businessmen as well as the Italian people in general.

Some Italians now insist they must have a Christmas bird, even a goose or a turkey.

Commercialism ruins the true significance of Christmas in Italy as well as in the United States. Toy sponsors this year are challenging children's interest in the birth of Christ.

However, in all of Rome's 475 churches, in all other cities and in the humblest home, there is a crib for the Christ child. There is even a certain amount of rivalry and competition among churches and homes as to who will have the finest crib.

PICKING THE WINNERS
BARCELONA, Spain (UP) — A five-man group which calls itself "Los Cinco" today celebrated its second big football pool win within a year. The group won this week's lottery for $881,000. A year ago the same group hauled in $38,000. The system in picking the winners? "Give the underdog in any given game the benefit of the doubt."

The Star of Bethlehem

At Christmas time, may our hearts open wide to the meaning of the day, and the birth of our Saviour that was the greatest gift that ever blessed mankind . . .

So, while we bestow and welcome gifts of all kinds

during this happy season, let us remember best

His gifts to us . . . the spirit of Faith and Hope,

Peace and Good Will, and Glory unto God . . .

Young Director
Jolly Fellow

LOS ANGELES (U) - The young children of Sam Wall were rehearsing their Nativity play at home and the eldest, Jan, who is 7, was directing her three sisters and brother, who had gathered at the crib of baby sister Debbie, 5 months.
"Now I'll be the Blessed Mother," advised Jan, "and Debbie is the Holy Infant in the crib.
And all you Wise Men just kneel down here and sing, 'For He's a Jolly Good Fellow.'"
Mary is the Hebrew name for bitter tears.
